

HAYLEE AND FRANKLIN MARRY AT WILTON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

(featured on Martha Steward Weddings)

Fate seemed to want to bring Franklin Shipman (known as Shippy) and Haylee Rothschild together, but the pair took a while to realize it. Both grew up in Wilton, Connecticut, and attended the same high school, but their paths never crossed. In 1991, they dated for a few weeks but weren't looking for a serious relationship at the time. Nine years later, they reconnected and were "completely enamored," says Haylee. In 2001, Haylee came home to a candlelit apartment and music playing softly on the stereo. Shippy walked her to the couch, knelt on one knee, and proposed.

